Russia Sets Off Its Second Atomic Explosion And It May Be New Kind Bomb

Rabinowitch Sees Red Progress

No Indication Of H-Explosion

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (INS) — A world-famous atomic scientist told International News Service in an exclusive interview Wednesday that Russia's second atomic explosion almost certainly represents the tryout of a new model A-bomb.

Dr. Eugene Rabinowitch, editor of the Bulletin of Atomic Scientists and a professor at the University of Illinois, said:

"The first comment to be made on the news of Soviet Russia's second atomic explosion is the comment almost everyone will make: This represents the tryout of a new model bomb.

"Everyone was astonished, in the period following the first reported Soviet explosion in September, 1949, that further detonations did not follow shortly.

"Yet—if there now is a new Soviet atomic-bomb model—the two-year gap between 1949 and the recent explosion is not such a long time.

"For a comparison we must turn to the U. S. atomic bomb explosions. It seems that one model was exploded at Alamogordo, N. M., and at Nagasaki and another was exploded at Hiroshima, all in 1945. And it seems probable that one of these two early models was tested at Bikini in 1946.

"A new model, then, was probably not tested until the Eniwetok explosion in April, 1948—two years and eight months after Nagasaki, as compared to just over two years between the USSR's test explosion."

Looks To Future

As to the long-range implications of the new explosion, Dr. Rabinowitch commented:

"Perhaps the most important observation to be made is that it is going to be increasingly difficult to keep it from being used in the past—to achieve international control of atomic energy.

"And this applies both to the USSR and to the United States.

"For as each nation builds its stockpiles, international control becomes more remote. Effective control must start with a declaration of the existing stockpiles—a count of how many bombs each nation already has.

"And while it is easy to check on production of A-bombs once a plan is in effect, it is even easier to hide stockpiles before inspections begin."

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Russia set off a second atomic bomb recently, the White House announced Wednesday. The terse statement termed the blast "another atomic bomb." This was the first official confirmation that President Truman referred to a bomb when he announced the Soviet's initial "atomic explosion" Sept. 23, 1949.

Only minutes ahead of the official word, the Associated Press had begun transmission of information from other competent sources that the government was studying information indicating the Russians actually made two atomic explosive tests in recent days or weeks—one of them a failure.

Standard Type

These sources said the data already studied indicates the tests involved only standard nuclear fission—not the fusion type explosion involved in the hydrogen bomb.

The white house did not go into such detail. Presidential Secretary Joseph Short concluded his brief statement:

"Further details cannot be given without adversely affecting our national security interests."

President Truman said, through Short:

"In spite of Soviet pretensions that their atomic energy program is being directed exclusively toward peaceful purposes, this event confirms again that the Soviet Union is continuing to make atomic weapons."

The announcement came in the midst of fresh discussions of new American atomic weapons—the "fanatic" weapons which President Truman first mentioned.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.), former chairman and member of the congressional atomic committee, said earlier in a Baltimore speech that powerful new atomic weapons were available for use in Korea. He indicated he favored their use but said this was a military decision.

But the president's announcement caused another atomic committee member, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), to conclude that the Soviet explosion had been known for several weeks. "It explains why we have not used atomic weapons in Korea."

Another congressional source, who declined use of his name, said that seismicographic recordings left no doubt the Russian explosion was "very successful." He said his information was the explosion occurred three or four days ago.

One Badly Injured In Wreck Here

A soldier was in "serious" condition at Veterans hospital early Thursday morning after an accident about four miles east of Lincoln on Highway 34, involving a truck and two cars.

He was Bill Coleman, 22, of Carswell air force base, Fort Worth, Tex. Authorities said he was in severe shock, had fractures of a leg, a broken arm, and a skull injury.

He was enroute here to visit a sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shreve, 725 J street.

Taken to Bryan Memorial hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises were the occupants of the other car. They were O. A. Collin, 33, school superintendent at Elmwood; John Whitmore, 26, of Louisville; and John R. Johnston, 26, of Elmwood. The trio was released following treatment.

The driver of the truck, Donald J. Kroese, 22, of Weeping Water, was not injured.

Coleman's car was completely demolished. State Trooper V. R. O'Neil gave this account of the mishap:

Coleman was going west, followed by Collin's car. As he neared the top of a grade, Kroese's truck loomed in front of him coming from the west.

The box of the 2½ ton truck sheared off the left side of Coleman's car. The truck veered to the north side of the road, struck a road drain, and then sideswiped the Collin machine. Collin had pulled over into the north ditch to avoid the collision.

Apples, canned goods, batteries, tires—all types of groceries and freight from the truck littered the road. Lincoln police helped the safety patrol direct traffic until the area was cleared.

Memorial Service, Eulogies In House Honor Karl Stefan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House colleagues paid final tribute Wednesday to Karl Stefan, Nebraska republican who died Tuesday. More than a dozen members praised him at memorial services in the house.

"He never spoke an unkind word about anyone," said Rep. Martin (R-Mass.), the minority leader. "He was a man without an enemy."

Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), the majority leader, said: "He was a man of restraint in his views and expressions of others. He was truly a sweet and lovable character."

Stefan, born in Bohemia and brought to this country as an infant, had entered the hospital for a rest and a checkup.

His son and daughter, Dr. Franklin Karl Stefan of Washington, Wash., and Mrs. Ida Mae Askren of Chicago, listened from the visitors' gallery as their father was eulogized. Stefan's widow remained in her hotel apartment.

"It would be wonderful if every school in the country would have the history of Karl Stefan's life," said Rep. Edith Rogers (R-Mass.). "What a fine thing, an inspiration, it would be for children to read: how good it would be for newcomers to this country."

Rep. Curtis (R-Neb.), said the immigrant boy's "rise and election to congress is an inspiring story of what can happen in this country."

"Stefan was as friendly as a puppy and yet he had steel in his moral backbone that never wavered when he thought he was right," said Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.).

His achievements, said Rep. Buffett (R-Neb.), "will serve as an inspiration to Nebraskans for years to come."

Speaker Sam Rayburn named this 11-man group to represent the house at funeral services Saturday afternoon at Norfolk, Neb.

Reps. Curtis, Miller, and Buffett of Nebraska; Wendell (R-Calif.), Smith (R-Kas.); Rooney (D-NY); Preston, (D-Ga.); Jensen, (R-Ia.); Hoeven (R-Ia.); Clevenger (R-Ohio) and Flood (D-Pa.).

Rep. Stefan's Rites Saturday

NORFOLK, Neb. — (Lincoln Star Special) — Funeral services for Congressman Karl Stefan, who died Tuesday at Washington, D. C., will be held at Trinity Episcopal church in Norfolk Saturday afternoon.

The Stefan family is expected in Norfolk some time Thursday, coming here by plane from Washington, according to Donald D. Mapes, close friend of the family.

The body of the dean of the Nebraska congressional delegation left Washington late Wednesday and is expected to arrive in Omaha Friday. The body will be escorted to Norfolk by members of the house and senate appointed as a funeral delegation.

Reds Send Reply To Ridgway

Seven-Day Silence On Truce Talks Broken

TOKYO — (Thursday) — (AP) — The communists today answered Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's proposal that the stalled Korean truce talks be switched from red-held Kaesong to a nearby no-man's land.

A communist liaison officer handed the message to an allied officer at Panmunjom and said it was "in reply to Gen. Ridgway from Gens. Kim Il Sung (North Korea premier) and Peng Teh-huai (Chinese red commander in Korea)."

The reds broke a seven-day silence on Ridgway's proposal.

U. N. Patience Tried

The delivery came at a time when the allies showed a near exhaustion of patience by exploding heavy tank-led attacks on the vital west Korean front.

Contents of the message were not disclosed at once.

The communists broke off the talks Aug. 23 after charging the allies had bombed the Kaesong neutral area the night before. The allies denied this charge.

The new development in the stalled cease-fire talks came after Gen. Omar N. Bradley had completed a quick trip to Tokyo and Korea and had left for Washington.

Pfc. Richard Eirich Wounded In Action

Pfc. Richard L. Eirich, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eirich of 814 New Hampshire, has been wounded in action in Korea.

Now in a hospital in Japan, he received four shrapnel wounds on Sept. 6, a month and two days after arriving in Korea.

According to Mrs. Eirich, he was to have been operated on about a week ago.

Pfc. Eirich attended Hayward school, Whittier junior high and Lincoln high. After graduating from high school in 1948, he worked in a grocery store until he entered the army Nov. 27, 1950.

The Power Of A Penny:

Girl Sells Pins To Fight Communism

The fight against communism is a big thing but not big enough to diminish the value of a penny to eight-year-old Mary K. Quinn of 2939 Stratford.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Quinn, Mary saw the possibilities of success in lines relating to her father's work as executive director of the Crusade For Freedom in Nebraska.

Her father had given Mary a large supply of Freedom pins to distribute among her third grade friends at Sheridan school. Seeing the interest among the children for the pins Mary soon got other ideas.

With the thought of contributing her earnings to the Crusade, Mary set up a counter on her front porch to sell the pins for a penny apiece. Confusing the distribution of the pins with the donation of a penny for membership in the Crusade as explained by her dad Mary believed the idea a sound one.

Due to a shortage of change among the neighborhood children Mary never got to make a sale. Her father discovered the plan before the children could return from their homes with nickles changed into pennies.

And what was she going to do with her proceeds? "Why give them to the Crusade, of course," was her answer.

Huge Communist Supply Convoys Rumble Toward Front Under Endless Air Attack

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(Thursday) — (AP)—The allies' autumn offensive erupted with tanks and flame throwers Wednesday along a 40-mile front in west and central Korea. Bitterly resisting reds were driven north in hand-to-hand fighting as much as two miles.

Heavily censored field dispatches and a communique pinpointed the furious action as sweeping northeast from Korangpo to Kumwha.

Korangpo is 28 miles northwest of Seoul. From Korangpo the thunder of allied guns carried 12 miles east to Kaesong, site of the suspended truce talks. Kumwha, southeast anchor of the "Iron Triangle," is in central Korea 19 miles north of Parallel 38.

The heaviest fighting was northwest of Korangpo, west of Yonchon and east of Chorwon. Yonchon is 35 miles north of Seoul. Chorwon, southwest anchor of the Iron Triangle, is 17 miles north of Parallel 38.

Fairly Quiet In East

East front action was limited, but French and American infantry repulsed a heavy red counter attack on the slopes of "Heart-break Ridge."

After yesterday's thunderous artillery barrage, British, American, Greek and Filipino troops jumped off against reds in the west.

The Chinese reds were hit so hard on the ridgeline northwest of Kumwha that they pulled out last night and gave up hill positions without firing a shot. Previously they had held off allied attacks there for three days.

A communique today reported gains in western Korea, but did not pinpoint them or give their extent.

Huge communist supply convoys moved toward the front under ceaseless attack by allied planes.

"Big Things In Air"

(A partial censorship covered the front, but enough seeped through to suggest "big things are in the air—either by the allies or the reds," AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw said in Tokyo.)

The communists strove to supply the front day and night in the biggest movement since last May, when the last red offensive was bloodily repulsed.

The fifth air force said more than 4,300 red trucks were brought under aerial assault and "very heavy losses" were inflicted.

Several hundred United Nations guns laid down a fiery curtain of steel on enemy positions in the west.

In Washington the defense department announced that United States battle casualties in Korea have reached 87,650, an increase of 2,181 since last week. This included 430 killed in action and 1,756 wounded and five missing. The First marine division had 880 casualties compared to 1,275 by six army divisions in Korea.)

Temperatures went down as the rain front advanced across the state. At Lexington, a high of 85 was recorded, but the mercury plummeted to 57 by early evening.

Lincoln and Omaha tied Lexington for the day's high temperature with 85. Highs Thursday were expected at around 60 to 65 in the west and 65 to 70 in the east.

Chappell Woman Slightly Hurt In Car Mishap Here

Mrs. Mabel Klingman, 60 of Chappell, received minor leg injuries Wednesday afternoon when she was accidentally caught between a car being backed from a parking stall and another parked adjacent to it near Twelfth and O streets.

Her husband, William, 68, thought his wife was on the sidewalk instead of between the two cars when he backed into the street. Mrs. Klingman was pinned against a car owned by Elmo G. Schmitt, of 3444 T St.

She was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital where she was treated for bruises and abrasions and released.

Occupied 8,000 Years Ago:

Ancient Indian Campsite Found In Nebraska

University of Nebraska state museum scientists have discovered a campsite occupied by humans intermittently during a period more than 8,000 years ago.

The campsite was found buried at eight different levels in an embankment bordering the reservoir created by Medicine Creek dam. The find was reported by E. Mott Davis, Museum anthropologist. The topmost campsite, he said, is 13 feet above the lowest one.

From evidence collected at similar sites near this one, Davis said, it is probable that the campsites were used sometime between 8,000 and 10,000 years ago.

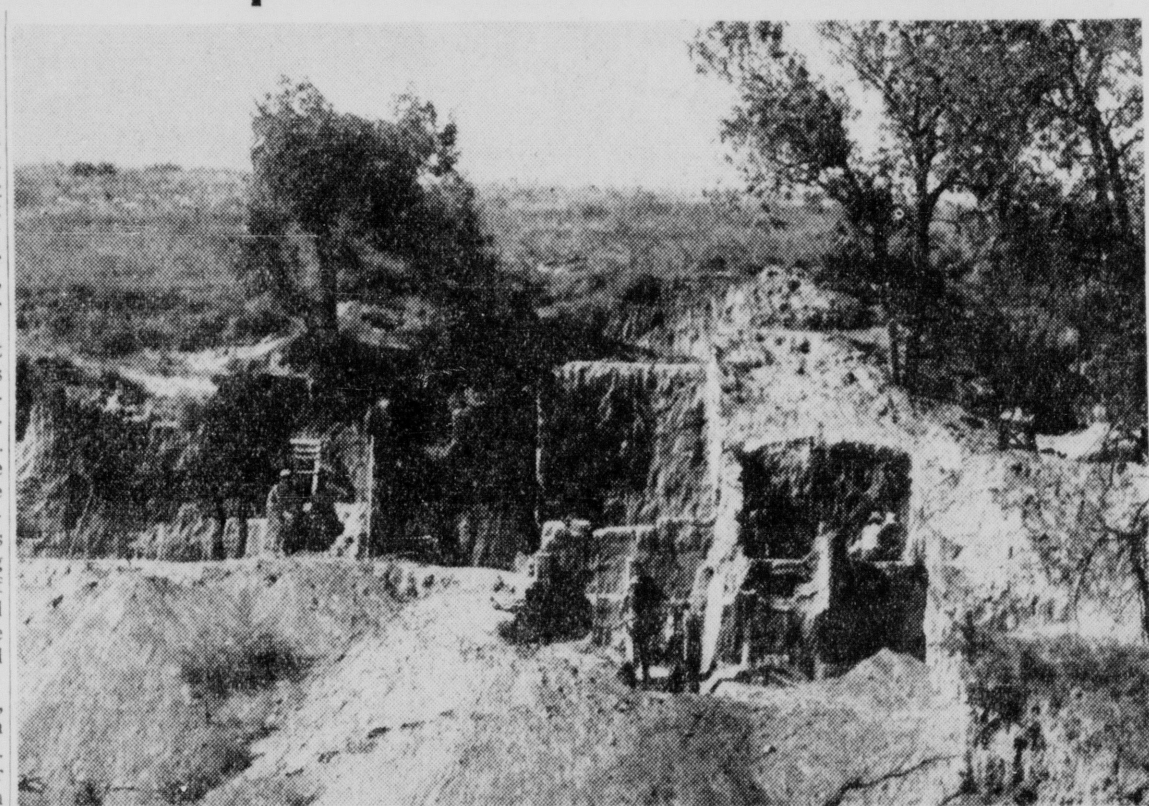

The site was probably attractive to the tribes who lived at these campsites because it offered protection from the north wind, was apparently in a region abounding in bison, and large deposits of jasper, a flint-like stone, provided them the raw materials to make arrow or spear points, knives and scrapers.

Of particular scientific interest, Davis said, is the litter found in one of the middle campsites. Among the debris several dart or spear points were found which are similar to points found in Texas, Colorado and elsewhere in Nebraska. These points will provide scientists with another bit of evidence in tracing the migrations and living habits of these tribesmen.

Dr. C. B. Schultz, museum director in general charge of the Medicine Creek project for the past several years, said the campsites contained fossilized remains of many animals which provided the tribesmen food. These included badgers and weasels much like those found in Nebraska today and other animal types, now extinct, such as prairie dogs larger than those of today, pronged horn antelope larger than present types, and bison with longer horns and larger skulls than the type first seen by white men in the Great Plains.

In addition to Davis, the Medicine Creek field party included the following students: Sidney R. Ash, Albuquerque, N. M., Torben Nielsen, Glendale, Calif., George M. Rabe, Dallas, Texas, Robert G. Schipf of Yonkers, N. Y., Neal E. Wilson, Holbrook, and John L.

Harper, Bruce R. Minter, Norman G. Schwenk, Philip Seiff, David W. Stubbs and David B. Williams, all of Lincoln.

The field work was financed in part by the National Park Service.

The museum also had another field party stationed at Fort Robinson, Neb., during the summer headed by Lloyd G. Tanner of the museum staff, which included Dr. Robert S. Jung of Julesburg, Colo., and the following students: Jerry Folsom, Lincoln, Cyril H. Harvey II, Media, Pa., and Allen D. Smith, Pilger.

Components of this group investigated deposits of pre-historic animals at Wildcat Ridge in western Nebraska, at sites near Hebron, Nemaha and Pawnee City, and in association with the University of Chicago and the University of Minnesota, along the Red River in North Dakota, and in Minnesota.

—Conferees— Corporation Tax Boost Of 5% OKed Nov. 1 Decided On For Individual Hike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A compromise agreement to raise the normal tax rate for corporations five percentage points was reached Wednesday by a senate-house conference committee.

The committee also decided to fix Nov. 1 as the effective date for increased personal income taxes. Members have not come to terms yet on the side of the increase.

Staff experts estimated the change from the present corporate rate would yield more than $2,000,000,000 in additional revenue but said no firm figure could be arrived at until all differences in house and senate versions of the bill are ironed out.

Whatever the conferees agree on still is subject to approval by the two houses of congress.

House Formula

The conferees agreed to increase the normal tax on the first $25,000 of a corporation's earnings from 25 per cent to 30. This was the house formula.

The surtax rate was left at 22 per cent, as at present, which means the combined normal and surtax rate applicable to corporate earnings over $25,000 would become 52 percent rather than 47.

The tax on excess profits would rise from 77 percent to 82.

"Complicated 'rolling rates' still have to be worked out before the new tax picture for corporations becomes clear."

Fifty Who Ate At Wyoming Sale Ill

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — (AP) — Fifty persons of 150 known to have eaten at a ranch livestock sale became ill Wednesday and at least 30 of them were hospitalized here.

An attending physician said they were suffering from food poisoning. He said the food was prepared Tuesday to be served Wednesday at a herd sale on the J. J. Berry and sons' ranch, 18 miles north of Cheyenne.

Buyers attending the sale came from Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska and South Dakota.

Girl, 11, Hurt Slightly In Bike-Car Collision

An accident which involved two cars and a bicycle at Eleventh and South streets Wednesday resulted in body bruises for 11-year-old Shirley Ann Schmidt, 1122 Peach.

Shirley Ann was going north across South street on her bike when a car, driven by Harry E. Hennecke, 20, 116 south twenty-ninth, struck another car, driven by C. H. Trigg, 39, 2719 South Eleventh, and collided with the girl.

DAD FRED SWAIN AND son Dave Swain peruse The Star, friend and business venture for both at similar ages... "a carrier's job hasn't changed much"... (Star Photo)

'Nice To Have A Business Of Your Own,' Star Carrier Says

"It's kind of nice to have a little business of your own when you're a kid," commented Fred Swain of 1740 North Thirty-first street. And his son, Dave, seconded his opinion.

Fred Swain carried a Star route during his high school days in the 1920's, and now his son is a Star carrier on Route 444.

"I suggested the paper route to Dave," Fred explained, "but from then on he has been his own boss."

After comparing notes, the two decided a carrier's job hasn't changed much.

"But judging from Dave's collection, I'd say Lincolns are a lot more honest now than they were when I was carrying a route," Fred added.

"I horned around a lot when I was a carrier," Fred admitted, "but Dave is really trying to give good service."

The boy estimated his route brings in about $20 a month. "I save most of it and have about $250 in the bank, and I just bought a new bicycle," Dave grinned.

"And he buys his own clothes, too," his dad added.

Dave is 14, and has been carrying the Star for over two years. This winter his younger brother, Bob, will help him with the route, in order to gain experience.

"He's going to be a carrier, too," Dave explained.

Father Fred is pretty proud of his son's success in the newspaper business. "He's getting ahead," he bragged, "and getting a lot of good experience."

Because he carries a morning paper route, Dave still has time for after-school sports at Whittier junior high, where he's in the ninth grade.

Texas's Affection For Egyptian Dancer Costs Him Inheritance

HOUSTON, Tex. — (AP) — A red-headed Texan lost his heart to a blue-eyed Egyptian belly dancer and because he did, his socially prominent mother says he's going to lose his inheritance.

Shepherd King III, said Wednesday in Paris he would become a Moslem in order to marry Samia Gamal, the pretty 27-year-old dancer he wooed and won in a few hours.

"I'm going to disinherit him! Period!" his mother, Mrs. Bonner King, said here Wednesday.

"If it is true, my son is not coming back to this house," she declared.

King, 26, said in Paris that he would marry the girl, who frequently danced before King Farouk of Egypt, in a Moslem ceremony and then bring her to Texas and marry her again in his home state.

Moslem law does not permit Moslem women to marry non-Moslems.

Mrs. King, out of the top drawer in Houston society, said her son had not communicated with her. Neither had her 18-year-old daughter, Patricia, with her son in Paris.

The wealthy Mrs. King said her son's grandfather was the "third largest cotton exporter in the world."

King's father built a fortune in cotton and oil.

King went to Paris with his sister Patricia Sept. 18.

$66 In Shirts Taken

The theft of 22 white shirts valued at $66 from his front porch was reported to police Wednesday night by Herbert W. Burton of 318 Witherbee Road. Burton told officers he put the shirts out for a laundry pick-up, about 2 p.m., but by the time the truck came by, they had disappeared.

Hot Race Is Seen For Top Office Of Young Demos

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Delegates from all parts of the country converged on St. Louis Wednesday night for the kickoff of the eighth national convention of Young Democratic Clubs of America.

Immediate interest was focused on what promises to be a hot three-way race for president.

The candidates were Odus Kinsaid, 37, of Charleston, W. Va., Richard J. Nelson, 35, of Chicago and Springfield, Ill., and Basil Whitener, 37, of Gastonia, N. C.

All three hit town with both feet in motion, as the winner will gain significant political prestige for next year's elections.

Kinsaid is a former executive assistant to West Virginia's governor. Nelson now acts in a similar capacity in Illinois, while Whitener is a state solicitor (district attorney).

Omahan Killed As Train Hits Truck

JOSLIN, Ill. — (AP) — Two men, one of them identified as an Omahan, were killed Wednesday night in a truck-train crash at a railroad crossing near here.

The body of one of the men was identified as that of Calvin M. Jewett, 35, of Omaha. Both bodies were badly mangled and identification of the second man could not be made immediately.

Authorities said the pair was riding in a semi-trailer owned by the Independent Truckers, Inc., of Omaha. The trailer was loaded with whiskey.

RFC Loans For Newsprint Plants Asked

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Roberts (D-Ala.) Wednesday introduced a bill to authorize the Reconstruction Finance Corp. to make loans for the construction of newsprint plants.

The legislation states that the plants would be built in the interest of the national economy and defense, to relieve the current shortage of newsprint, to improve the position of the country as a buyer in the world newsprint market, and to maintain and promote a "prosperous free press."

The agency loans would not exceed 50 per cent of the construction cost of a plant.

A special house committee studying the newsprint situation saw no immediate hope that newsprint users "will be able soon to get all the newsprint which they may want."

"The situation beyond the very immediate future," the committee said in a report, "will require the most careful watching and planning."

Bluff Manslaughter Case Is Going To Supreme Court

SCOTT BLUFF — (AP) — A case decided in Scotts Bluff County District court in October of 1949 will be reviewed Monday in the U. S. Supreme court.

The case concerns Agapita Gallegos, 40, Mexican national, sentenced to 10 years in Nebraska penitentiary on a manslaughter charge. He is accused of killing his common law wife on a farm near Minatare.

He was captured in El Paso county, Tex., in September of 1949 and held 25 days in Texas and Scotts Bluff county without being permitted to see an attorney, his lawyer claims. During the time he is purported to have signed two confessions.

Robert Simmons, Jr., Gallegos' appointed attorney, appealed the case to the Nebraska Supreme court, which upheld.

Simmons contends the confessions and Gallegos being held so long violates due process.

Ask Mo Pac Request To Abandon Talmage-Otoe Line Be Reconsidered

The state railway commission asked the interstate commerce commission to reconsider the Missouri Pacific's request to abandon its line between Talmage and Otoe.

After the line was washed out in the 1950 flood, the railroad company asked for permission to abandon the line. Chairman Larson of the state Commission explained.

The ICC examiner recommended that the request be granted, but the state railway commission contends public convenience and necessity requires continued use of the line.

Undue weight has been given the alleged cost of rehabilitation. Chairman Larson declared in his request for a rehearing.

He pointed out that the railroad rebuilt washed out sections of its Auburn-Crete branch, washed out at the same time.

Western Union Is Given Rate Boost

A rate increase for Western Union Telegraph company on intra-state business (within the state) has been approved by the state railway commission.

The increase conforms to an increase the federal communications commission already had approved on interstate messages.

The increase averages about 22.4 per cent, and will add about $34,000 to the company's revenue on messages whose origin and destination are both in the state of Nebraska.

The new schedule also allows a minimum of 15 words instead of the traditional ten. This, too, was part of the interstate schedule.

The change on intra-state business takes effect Nov. 1. It is already in effect on interstate business.

Other action by the railway commission.

Application of Northwestern Bell Telephone company to raise its long rate area at 50 Cook approved. This will result in a reduction in charges to 115 customers who have been paying mileage rates in addition to other charges and it will open the way for service to 54 potential customers not now served.

Belligerency or Co-Operation?

by J. Gordon Roberts

"By now you must be aware that I take more than a passing interest in your articles and follow your philosophic cogitation with more than a little interest."

"For that reason I am sending you what I might consider my latest on-the-run thoughts on war and peace."

"When I attended the university between 1920 and 1925, pugnacity was accepted as an instinct. Now many a psychologist and sociologist is dubious about its being as inherent and deep-seated as an instinct and is inclined to look upon it as conditioned."

"The impulses of cooperation and of mutual aid were not then considered as instinctive as pugnacity. And just as the heated debate as to the supremacy of nature over nurture, and heredity and environment was carried on for generations, so the debate as to the supremacy of pugnacity over the impulses of cooperation and mutual aid in human nature has continued down to our day."

"By now we recognize that what was considered absolute and unchangeable only a generation or two ago has been found to be changeable, such as elements, chromosomes, genes, and breeds by means of chemicals, radiology, atomic radiation, artificial insemination and the grafting and cross-breeding. And isotopes have opened up new worlds, new vistas and limitless possibilities for the mutation of plants, animals, materials, etc., etc."

"My conviction for years has been that if civilization is to enjoy peace and prosperity and progress, it shall have to find moral equivalents for war. It shall have to discover and use the means of sublimating the instinct of pugnacity and direct the destructive city and human nature in the direction of struggles against nature, if I may use that expression. What I have in mind is to utilize the energies and passions and will to conquest toward the understanding and the conquest of nature instead of having that pugnacity directed against their fellowmen toward the conquest of epidemics, plagues, pestilence, floods, soil-crocod, toward the diminishing the area of pain, the lengthening of life, the conservation of human and natural resources."

"Thus in accentuating and enhancing and deepening the creative and constructive sides of human nature, the destructive and the pugnacious proclivities of man will gradually be eclipsed by the positive and the life enriching qualities."

Aitken Answers Highway Department Criticism

'People Appear Interested Only In Own Roads'

Calling attention to the fact that there are five basic criticisms of the state highway department, State Engineer H. L. Aitken commented that the people of Nebraska do not appear interested in good state highways but are concerned only with the "highway by their front door."

His comments were occasioned by a letter from a Furnas county man which contained all of the five basic criticisms. These were listed as:

1. Roads are being constructed elsewhere in the state; why isn't construction done on my road?
2. Construction funds are being spent on roads that are already hard surfaced instead of adding new hard surfaced mileage.
3. Road improvements are made where the most votes are located.
4. Highways are better in other states.
5. Highway maintenance has been terrible this year.

Answers Given
Engineer Aitken offered the following answers:

1. It would be impossible to divide the limited funds available so that all of the people of the state would be satisfied. "There is a critical need for construction and reconstruction on a far greater mileage than can possibly be done with available funds," he explained.

Aitken pointed out that "Mr. X" the Furnas county letter writer complained that he has been paying taxes for years and that the road in which he is interested hasn't been improved.

He said that if Mr. X is an average motorist he will drive 8,500 miles in 1951 and that the department will receive from him $15.66 in road user taxes.

Amount Small
This amount, department figures show, Aitken said, will only pay for maintenance on 130 feet of Nebraska highway No. 89 near the home of Mr. X.

2. Most of the money spent the past few years has been spent to save the investment already made in highways. Before the war, for example, U. S. 6 and 34 near Arapahoe was improved with a four inch base and one-fourth inch bituminous surface treatment.

This, he said is inadequate for the 2,449 vehicles using the highway in July, 1951. To save the highway he said the eastern portion was resurfaced two years ago and the balance is now under construction.

Not Vote Basis
3. Improvements are not made on the basis of votes, he said, pointing out that U. S. 20 and Nebraska No. 2 cross sparsely settled section.

4. Aitken said it is hard to compare highway systems of various states because mileage and incomes vary. Soils, weather and natural obstacles make wide differences in highway costs.

5. "As for maintenance of highways this summer," Aitken said, "I wish that the public would understand that the maintenance employees do not and cannot control the weather." Unprecedented rainfall, he said, has made the usual construction and maintenance impossible.

Aitken said that the basic question Mr. "X" and all other Nebraska citizens should ask themselves is: What kind of highway service am I willing to buy? He added that highway service isn't free but is purchased just the same as the vehicles that operate on the highways.

Even The Cynic Blushes

By J. E. LAWRENCE

SAN FRANCISCO—This old town which gulped down a Barbary coast and a boisterously shameless waterfront unblushingly is revealing in its latest sensation. It does appear to be pretty small business, something of the same contagious disintegration of public morals in the discharge of the people's business.

Here it involves more than a half dozen of the top personnel in the internal revenue bureau, who have been suspended or removed from their posts while a grand jury continues to delve into affairs. Until that grand jury completes its work the exact character of the developments responsible for a wholesale shake-up in the San Francisco division of the internal revenue bureau cannot be set forth. Apparently there is solid ground for the inquiry. One of the men in the line of fire attempted to end his life, and falling, spilled what was reputedly a long, sordid story of official wrongdoing.

Californians, who have not always taken the tight-lipped view of high jinks, are aroused, a development which may assert itself vigorously in the impending presidential campaign of 1952. The Hearst paper here, which did the original digging in the dirt, has undertaken to establish that President Truman did not act until matters got so hot he could delay no longer, but there is nothing to demonstrate that Washington itself was aware of the state of affairs.

There is, however, a real cleanup job ahead of this country stemming from a widespread breakdown of the traditional conception that public office is a sacred trust. On the east coast late last week Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York acted with dispatch and severity in lancing a boil affecting two or three key men in state administrative posts, and occupying positions of influence in the republican party. And I talked with some Iowans here about the ruckus in Iowa over Governor Beardsley's income tax.

What is disturbing is the fact that the rot seems so widespread, affecting not one but an undisclosed number of agencies of government, and cutting squarely across party lines. Both Chairman Boyle and Chairman Gabrielson have embarrassed their organizations. Technically in their activities before the RFC they may not have smeared even the tips of their little fingers, but the fact remains that they have not set an inspiring example and they have provided workers in public posts all the way down the line with a rather cynical view of responsibility.

There is a quality in the performance of public service which cannot be brushed aside and which is more urgent today than in less distressing times. Public business must be handled so that it not only conforms to right principles but it must look right to the people.

President Truman has placed himself squarely behind a proposal that all federal employees receiving in excess of $10,000 a year shall account for every cent of income received from outside sources. That may be drastic, and in many individual cases it would infringe upon the personal affairs of men who are above reproach. Yet because of the developing circumstances across the board, stretching all of the way from the east to the west coast, there seems to be merit in it. It is a pretty wretched situation when members of congress or men in administrative posts should be called upon to tell how much dough they haul in every year, but a handful out of the many has set up the pins for action in that direction.

There never has been a post-war era that did not leave a smell. It happened in the twenties and it is rearing its ugly head again. The scandals of the Grant administration, which followed the civil war, are familiar. The only conclusion that can be drawn is that a period of high emotion and great effort on the part of a people inevitably seems to be followed by a letdown, a desire to have fun and to make whoopee.

It has now reached a proportion where it promises to blot out other issues which are crying for attention and which in the long pull have a bearing upon the destinies of this country no less than corruption and mal-administration of public affairs.

The people can and will handle this thing. There is no sympathy to be wasted upon those who abuse the faith bestowed upon them.

Potpourri Today

SAN FRANCISCO—A few nights ago from vantage points on Treasure Island and the Oakland bridge I gazed upon the most pulse-stirring night skyline in America. There is no artistry available to the theater to equal it. Stretching from the water's edge to the background of the hills surrounding this city there is a blaze of twinkling lights which creates an impression of man's best purpose.

That bridge, Nebraskans know, is a monument to one of their own. Charlie Purcell had a hand in the preliminary studies of design and supervised its construction. He retired not many months ago and within four weeks after his retirement was dead. I am inclined to think that California's highways, not the Oakland bridge, was Mr. Purcell's greatest contribution to California as head of its public works department. I shiver to think what Nebraskans would say about the lavishness of expenditures required for thousands of miles of durable ribbon covering this state, particularly upon those roads which lead through California's mountains. Every mile of mountain construction cost much more than a pretty penny.

Another Nebraska-trained engineer of exceptional ability, Paul Cannell, who married Gertrude Scribner, quite unconsciously in casual conversation impressed me with Sen. Hugh Butler's stupidity on Alaskan statehood. Mr. Cannell was telling of some trips he has made to Anchorage.

It is now possible to leave the airport here after an early breakfast and put down in Anchorage in time for lunch, unless some of those strong winds which come from out of the Aleutians reduce the speed of the plane. And the same plane, after refueling and a brief rest, takes off from Anchorage, reaching San Francisco early in the night. Alaska, Mr. Cannell says, is changing, a busy beehive, remote from the rest of the world but conscious of its place in the world. Anchorage has become a city of 25,000 persons, modern in many ways but still gilded with much of the atmosphere of the old gold rush days of the Yukon. The dance halls and the grog shops do a big business, and some of the girls look as though they might have been there during the gold rush.

Down at Fisherman's Wharf at the close of the week the fleet was in, always a fascinating sight for those of us who live so far from the seas.

For Nebraska's Youngsters

The smartest thing Governor Val Peterson has said since occupying the office of governor in Nebraska was his comment in brushing aside a request for a special legislative session to deal with matters connected with leasing of school lands.

Val could have disposed of the request by simply pointing out that what is involved is not in the realm of legislative action but involves a constitutional amendment. The ruling of the supreme court that leases must be determined by competitive bidding at public auction was based upon a constitutional provision. The legislature burned its fingers in 1947 when it undertook to mess in by giving the leaseholder what was equivalent to a continuing right to the land, a right that could be passed on from one generation to another.

Unfortunately, in the mounting volume of discussion, the basic consideration in connection with the school lands has been getting little attention. The chief party of interest is not the leaseholder but the school children of Nebraska. These lands are in the nature of a trust set up for their benefit, including not only present generations but future as well. That needs to be emphasized and to the extent Governor Peterson directed attention to it he is to be commended.

On Being Led Astray

Brig. Gen. Crawford, who allegedly accepted free hotel rooms from a contractor, will be investigated further by the army, a news item says. Maybe this is to show the West Point cadets that the army likes to catch 'em both young and old.

There were more than a hundred and fifty trim fishing boats at anchor, boats built close to the water, broad and surprisingly stout, most of them constructed overseas rather than in American shipyards. They are manned largely by crews of Italians and Portuguese, who only recently joined hands in an effort to persuade congress that tariff barriers on fish imports should be hoisted. But the American people do not need to fear for the future of these fishermen. They have been doing quite all right, I was told, so everlastingly right in recent years that they could qualify among the newly rich.

There is one feature about this charming city which has no rival. I was out late last week in a recently developed section of San Francisco, which less than five years ago was the site of a cemetery. The cemetery was moved to another area and the ground is now a residential region, row upon row of white homes and beautiful flower gardens. I saw a Rose of Sharon which was a mass of delicate lavender blooms. I was told that it had been producing crop after crop of blossoms since early spring. A magnificent specimen of Yerba Buena was my favorite although when it came to a choice between the old-fashioned daisies, the scarlet geraniums, and at least a half-dozen more exotic plants, one hesitates to put it down on the line. Just at this time the flaming eucalyptus trees are tough to beat. Then I read that all our corn may have been kissed unceremoniously by Jack Frost much against the will of thousands of immature acres. There may have been a purpose to all of this lavishness in the world of flowers, but in the backyard where I stood it was necessary only to dig down six inches to reach rock. They haul in a few inches of dirt, plant some seeds, and then turn on the sprinkler. Nature takes care of everything after that—and how! Out our way it is 20 to 60 feet to soft stone, so deep is the black earth. The annual struggle for flowers in the midlands best will be left for someone who knows something about it.

Shortly before I left Lincoln I received a new biography of Harry Palmer, who in recent years had been making his home in Los Angeles. I noted in one of the papers from home that Mr. Palmer had died. He had taken a very active part in the earlier years of Nebraska politics, a most affable, friendly man, and a man of ability.

It can be granted that in individual cases there may be hardship and injustice to the leaseholder, particularly if he has gone to the expense or trouble of making improvements upon the land. But at all times the primary interest should be the school children. While costs of government mount, particularly in the field of education, and the lands become more valuable, that becomes more important.

Washington Merry-Go-Round— Taft Forces Trying To Oust Gabrielson

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine is leading an undercover drive to depose GOP National Chairman Guy Gabrielson—because Gabrielson won't join the covert anti-Eisenhower campaign.

This is what was back of the slam-bang attack on Gabrielson by isolationist republican Senators Dirksen of Illinois, Welker of Idaho and Jenner of Indiana, all faithful friends of Brewster.

For some time there has been bad blood between the amiable, conservative Gabrielson—who feels he must be neutral as to all GOP candidates—and Brewster, who is both the strategist for extreme right-wing forces in the senate and likewise Taft's campaign adviser. Gabrielson is privately pro-Taft, but he refused to go along on the anti-Eisenhower smear campaign recently distributed in Maine.

In fact, Gabrielson told a senate elections subcommittee he was "surprised and shocked" at the circulation of the "Partisan Republicans" pamphlet linking Eisenhower with the communists.

Therefore, when conscientious republican Senator Williams of Delaware criticized Gabrielson's connection with RFC loans to Carthage Hydrocol, Brewster saw his chance. He called in other republican senators, asked them to join Williams "for the good of the party."

—RAYBURN RAGES—

Speaker Sam Rayburn, usually an easygoing soul, gave Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of the house appropriations committee, a private dressing-down last week.

Cannon, who has had a tough time getting appropriations okayed in his committee, dropped into Rayburn's office to ask for a fourth 30-day extension to permit the government to operate another month while waiting for its appropriation bills to pass congress. The bills were supposed to pass by the end of the fiscal year, June 30, and ever since that date the government has been operating on a month-to-month piecemeal basis.

The speaker listened to Cannon's request and then hit the ceiling. He told the startled Missourian that this is the first time in history that congress has had to give four extensions on appropriations bills. Then he ordered Cannon bluntly to hurry up and finish the appropriations bills so congress could go home.

—TOO LATE IN IRAN—

Sorest people against the British in the Iranian oil dispute are other oil men in the Middle East. They point out that the British oil concession in Iran was obtained by corruption, that Britain kept certain members of the Iranian parliament on its payroll for years, and that everyone in Teheran knows this.

They also point out that the royals paid to the British are so niggardly that the Iranians were bound to kick over the traces.

In Indonesia, American companies pay 60 per cent royalty to the Indonesian government, keep 40 per cent. In Arabia the split is fifty-fifty. But in Iran, Britain officially pays only 25 per cent to Iran, though unofficially and through secret bookkeeping the split is reported nearer 12 per cent for Iran; 88 per cent for Britain. The Anglo-Iranian Oil company, of course, is government-owned.

Worst tragedy is that the state department failed to move in with our British friends long ago to head off obvious disaster.

In recent months the state de-

Washington Calling— Churchill Likely Visitor To America This Year

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—In the long pilgrimage of very important persons to Washington, the next in line will be Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. This will titillate social Washington but it will have little to do with the increasing seriousness of Britain's economic plight.

Discussion of that difficult problem will be reserved for still another important visitor from Britain, who, in present speculation, is expected in Washington perhaps as soon as early December. As the new prime minister of Great Britain, one of Winston Churchill's first acts would be to try to build back relations with the United States with the kind of firsthand exchange in which he specializes.

The doughty figure of Churchill once again looms large on the political horizon. Reports from their annual conference now going on show that the labor party is dispirited and full of defeatism with a major split glossed over only by the necessity of presenting a common front in the campaign.

The conservatives seem almost certain to win if only by default. The difficulties that will pile up in the winter months are such that a labor government could hardly face them, particularly in view of the record of confusion and failure of recent months.

The latest figures show Britain's deficit for the first eight months of 1951, resulting from an excess of imports over exports, to be $2,262,400,000. In part, this results from the inflationary rise in the cost of raw materials since the beginning of the Korean war.

In view of the deficit and the fact that a payment of $32,000,000 is due on Jan. 1 on the loan of nearly $4 billion advanced to Britain in 1946, Churchill might conceivably come to Washington to ask for further help from this country. Certainly, he could make such a request with better grace than Prime Minister Attlee. British politics do actually end at the water's edge, yet Churchill could hardly conceal his conviction, which he will make highly vocal in the current campaign, that labor incompetence is responsible for many of England's ills.

The likelihood, however, is that Churchill's goal will be of a different nature. According to reports from Britain, the feeling is growing among politicians of both parties that the burden of rearmament imposed by the program worked out through the

We Are The People . . . But He's Eyeing Spring

By BEVERLY LARSEN

SOME boys are just born athletes, and from all appearances, 13-year-old Bob Els, 4000 North Sixty-third street, is one of those "naturals."

Young Bob, halfback on the Northeast Merchants midget football team, is tied for high scorer on his team after three games.

"But being high scorer doesn't mean everything," he hastened to add. Bob is a firm believer in team work.

Despite his love for football, Bob says that baseball is his favorite sport. After finishing his education at the University of Nebraska, he would like to make baseball his career.

A choice like this is quite a decision for the young athlete who has won city awards in track, played on a champion softball team and excels in basketball.

ALTHOUGH he is large for his age now, Bob remembers a year ago when he had to "eat like a horse" to reach the 85-pound minimum weight limit for midget football players.

These players, sponsored by the Lincoln junior chamber of commerce, will play in finals in Lincoln, then compete in the regional contest, and, if they win all the way, will be featured in the Santa Claus bowl this winter.

"We'd get a week off from school, too," the Havelock junior high school seventh-grader added eagerly.

No matter where the team plays, Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Els, will be there cheering for the entire team. Unlike many mothers, the sight of a herd of midget football players tramping across her floor, cleated shoes and all, does not alarm Mrs. Els.

"I don't think a thing about it," she exclaimed. "Why this thing is just as great for parents as it is for their kids. I think Howard and I would hitchhike to the Santa Claus bowl if the boys got to go!"

No idle fans, Mr. and Mrs. Els currently are campaigning to get much-needed parkas for the team.

Taft And Eddie Cantor

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Every time I read or hear of Robert Taft as the possible next president of the United States, I can't help but recall that song Eddie Cantor used to sing after nominating himself (humorously) for the presidency. It went something like this:

"We will have no president when I am president."

Now those words, uttered as a means of evoking laughter, might actually come true!

Observer

The Military Trend

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This morning (Tuesday) a great and independent news commentator said, in essence and substance, on the air, "The military is in the saddle. Our fine boys bleed and suffer and die in Korea while we pour untold billions everywhere for cold war, hot war, Iran oil and what not. And yet in Kansas and Missouri we can't even restore our own fine midwest people to new homes and a chance to start again. Small wonder that it makes our blood boil. But we are not entirely helpless. We still have the ballot. What will we do with it?"

In the classic and chaste language of yesteryear, "Ain't it true, Mabel?"

And then it's interesting to observe that in your editorial this very morning from San Francisco you said, "We ourselves are open to criticism for our failure to discuss with more candor and understanding the implications of military government now taking shape in this country."

You then discuss the extravagant and prohibitive taxes, freedom of speech and press, shocking revelations in Washington. And you logically ended by saying, "Freedom can be a fleeting thing. They who would be free must earn it, if not by the sweat of the brow, at least by thinking about the world in which they live."

The commentator mentioned above and you "hit the bull's eye." Did not Christ say, 2,000 years ago, so much in so little, "They who live by the sword shall perish by the sword. Turn swords (and atom bombs) into ploughshares and pruning hooks. I am the truth, you shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free. Where a man's treasure is, there will his heart be. You cannot serve God and Mammon."

For one little voice crying in the wilderness I thought, when I heard the commentator and read your fine editorial, of what Christ said 20 centuries ago.

BRUTUS HISTORICUS

Boyle And Gabrielson

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The position in which Guy Gabrielson and Bill Boyle, national chairmen of the republican and democratic parties, respectively, find themselves regarding the RFC investigation is extremely embarrassing to both themselves and their parties. But their transgressions—if that they were—are not themselves serious in the broad aspect of things.

Apparently what they both did, according to best reports, was "introduce" party faithful to certain officials charged with dispensing RFC funds. They could hardly refuse to do this, and if the officials were moved to greater leniency with loan applications because of the introductory source, it wouldn't be the first time such mild influence was felt at any governmental level.

Whether or not either or both accepted compensation for these introductions is another matter. And whether they did or did not,

is not clear from conflicting stories.

The important aspect of the situation is that neither party can honestly accuse the other of dishonesty or influence peddling. The pot apparently is as black as the kettle.

What the answer is, I don't pretend to know. Full information would help arrive at that answer, but most of the press seems bent on muddying but one side and leaving the other largely unstirred, depending on which side of the fence the paper happens to rest. Witness the asinine attitude one Nebraska republican metropolitan daily took editorially toward Mr. Truman's "publication of public servants' income" suggestion.

That paper thought it a foolish effort by a desperate president to throw the righteous off the track in ferreting out corruption in his administration. I didn't find much, if anything, regarding Mr. Gabrielson's mishap in the same paper.

That is not the way to find out where the blame should be placed. Chances are, it cannot be placed at any single door.

Jessup Swears 'Never Faltered' In Opposing Reds

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup swore Wednesday he "never faltered" in opposing communism.

Denouncing any idea that he is ready to sell out this country to Soviet Russia, Jessup said Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) had tried to put across that idea in his efforts to block senate confirmation of Jessup as a delegate to the United Nations.

The ambassador, a lean, grey, dry-humored man, appeared as a witness before a senate foreign relations subcommittee to reply to McCarthy's 10-hour barrage of charges aired before the inquiry group Tuesday.

"To associate me with appeasement of the Soviet Union is categorically contradicted by the facts of my record as a public servant," Jessup said.

He said some of 'McCarthy's evidence was "absolutely dishonest."

Dealing with McCarthy's charges one by one, Jessup told the senators at the outset:

"I will begin with the unqualified declaration that Sen. McCarthy's allegation that I was affiliated with six communist fronts is false—his photostats notwithstanding."

Then, referring to McCarthy's assertion that Jessup has "followed all the twists and turns of the communist line," the witness said:

"I will submit evidence which will demonstrate that I have not been a follower of the communist party line. I will introduce evidence that the communists have attacked me with a violence equal to that displayed by the senator from Wisconsin—and with far greater justification."

In his point-by-point denial, Jessup disowned associating with alleged red fronts with frequent use of such phrases as "my files fail to disclose," "cannot even find a record" and "only slight contact."

The ambassador, a top adviser to Secretary of State Acheson, also declared at one point that a suspect organization which listed him as a sponsor did so "without any authorization from me" and "misused my name."

Hail Damage Is Heavy In Oakland Area

OAKLAND, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Residents of Oakland, with the aid of insurance adjusters, Wednesday surveyed the heavy damage suffered here during a 10-minute hailstorm Tuesday night.

Ninety-two windows in the school building were shattered by the hailstones, described by some as "big as hen eggs." The hail also tore holes in the roof of the old school house, causing water damage in several of the rooms.

A couple visiting in Oakland, Pvt. and Mrs. Martin Homes of Camp McCoy, Wis., suffered cuts and bruises when the hail went thru the roof of their convertible. Neither was seriously injured.

The storm, covering approximately four square miles, apparently centered on the town of Oakland itself.

All windows were broken and approximately two-thirds of the plants destroyed in the Oakland greenhouse.

All Neon Lights Destroyed
Half of the globes on the street lights throughout Oakland were shattered, and all neon signs in town were a total loss.

Hailstones fell to a depth of four inches, leaving trees shredded and an estimated 150 autos with pitted roofs. Many homes also suffered roof damage.

Loss estimated between $5,000 and $6,000 was reported at the Ed J. Nelson Equipment company.

State Farm Prices Rise 2 Points

Contrary to a nationwide downward trend, the index of farm prices received in Nebraska went up two points during the period of Aug. 15 to Sept. 15. At the peak, the prices reached 342 per cent of the 1910-14 base period, while the national average declined one point to 291 per cent of the base period.

That made the Nebraska index 51 points over the national level. Last year at the same date the Nebraska index was 36 points better than the national level.

The state and federal agricultural statistics bureau said the increase in the Nebraska index was due to higher prices for nearly all commodities. The all crops index was up four points to 247 per cent of the base period and the livestock and livestock products index was up two points to 373.

All grains except rye were higher on Sept. 15. Wheat was up five cents at $2.12 average, corn up one at $1.57, oats up four at 78 cents, barley up three at $1.06. Rye was down two cents at $1.38 and potatoes were five cents a bushel lower at $1.30.

Cattle Prices Up
Alfalfa went up $1 a ton to reach $17.20 and wild hay was up 60 cents at $14.60. Alfalfa seed dropped $2 per bushel for a $29 average statewide.

Hogs were off $1.20 per hundredweight at $19.30. But cattle and calf prices gained 80 cents with cattle averaging $32.20 and calves $34.90. Sheep prices were up 40 cents to $14.20 as lambs held at $30.10.

Top State Project At $12,440,968

BILLINGS, Mont.—(AP)—More than $142,000,000 worth of Missouri river basin work is scheduled for fiscal year 1952 by interior department agencies.

This was disclosed in the August progress report of the interior Missouri basin field committee.

During the fiscal year, ending next June 30th, $114,154,551 or 80 per cent of the $142,446,593 available for the interior department program in the Missouri basin will be used by the bureau of reclamation. The remaining $28,292,042 will be used by the other interior department agencies, including the fish and wildlife service, bureau of land management, bureau of mines, bureau of Indian affairs, geological survey and the national park service.

In Nebraska, the reclamation bureau money will go largely toward the Bostwick division ($3,607,391) and the Frenchman-Cambridge division ($12,440,968).

During the week of October 14-20, the church-sponsored CROP will collect donations of livestock all over Nebraska, to help feed people overseas who have been impoverished by war and famine.

The animals will be sold, with the proceeds going to buy processed meat and meat products for shipment overseas.

A two-year-old heifer was given to CROP by Emil Fuchser of Irwin, president of the Sandhills Cattle association, to be sold at the Gordon sale. The yearling steer was donated by J. H. Vinton, president of the Nebraska Stockgrowers association. The Gordon Sales company contributed the pig and a Swiss calf, and auctioned the animals.

"Nebraska Livestock for World Relief" is a new project of CROP this year. Members of the Nebraska Livestock Auction association in many Nebraska cities have arranged to sell animals donated to CROP without making the customary charges.

State CROP Director Merlin Frantz of Lincoln pointed out that a thousand-pound steer donated to the relief agency will feed 14 persons one three-ounce serving per day for an entire year, when exchanged at current market prices for canned, chopped, or corned beef, or beef and gravy.

Want extra cash? Just use a Journal and Star Want Ad and sell something you no longer need.

Also in the fiscal year money is allotted for investigation and studies on the lower Platte river basin ($179,535), the Columbia division of the lower North Loup unit ($43,000), the North Loup division ($2,000), the Middle Loup division, Sargent unit ($257,500), the Middle Loup division, Earl unit ($15,572), the Nebraska river basin in Nebraska, Wyoming and South Dakota ($109,143), the Nebraska division, O'Neill unit ($25,000), Sandhills division, Ainsworth unit ($217,917), and the Valentine division, Rolling Springs unit ($15,000).

Divers End Search For Drowned Man

ELWOOD, Neb. —(AP)—Navy divers from the Great Lakes naval training station gave up Wednesday night after a day-long search of Johnson lake in an effort to locate the body of Russell Raley, Norton, Kas., business man.

Because of the muddy condition of the water, the three divers were unable to find the body. They "just probed in the darkness," one observer said.

At the end of the day, they packed up their equipment and planned to leave for Great Lakes.

Raley is missing following a fishing expedition on Sept. 23. Bodies of his two companions, Owen Pantan and Walter Harris, both of Norton, have been recovered.

Sheriff M. E. Sunquist, who has been directing the search in the 2,500 acre lake, said his crews would continue dragging operations.

Grave New Dollar Crisis Plagues Britain

Gold Reserves Dip 598 Million In 3 Months

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's labor government disclosed details Wednesday night of a grave new dollar crisis which shadows campaigning for the general election, Oct. 25.

The chancellor of the exchequer, Hugh Gaitskell, said the gold-dollar reserves of the British-banked sterling area shrank by $598,000,000 in the last three months to $3,269,000,000.

The size of this drop in the kitty backing the sterling area's trade with the rest of the world shocked treasury officials.

Qualified sources had known there would be a drop, but forecast only a couple of weeks ago it would be in the neighborhood of $350,000,000 to $400,000,000.

The meaning of this financial storm warning for the conservatives and the laborites is clear. Whichever side wins the election will have a long, hard fight to re-establish this island nation's fortunes.

Parliament gathers Thursday for formal dissolution. Winston Churchill's conservatives formally promised to revamp GAITSKELL . . . reports big shrinkage.

Britain's system of taxing business and to adopt an emergency excess profits tax on the American model.

In a statement amplifying its election platform, the party said the excess profits tax will aim to insure that the burden of Britain's three-year $13,160,000,000 arms program "is fairly and evenly spread."

Safety Council Sets Driver Education Discussion Here

Emery Westwick, field representative for the Association of Casualty Insurance Agencies of Chicago, will be moderator of a forum on driver education Nov. 7, according to Kenneth E. Flory, president of the Lincoln-Lancaster safety council.

Flory made the announcement at a monthly meeting of the council Wednesday noon at the Capital hotel.

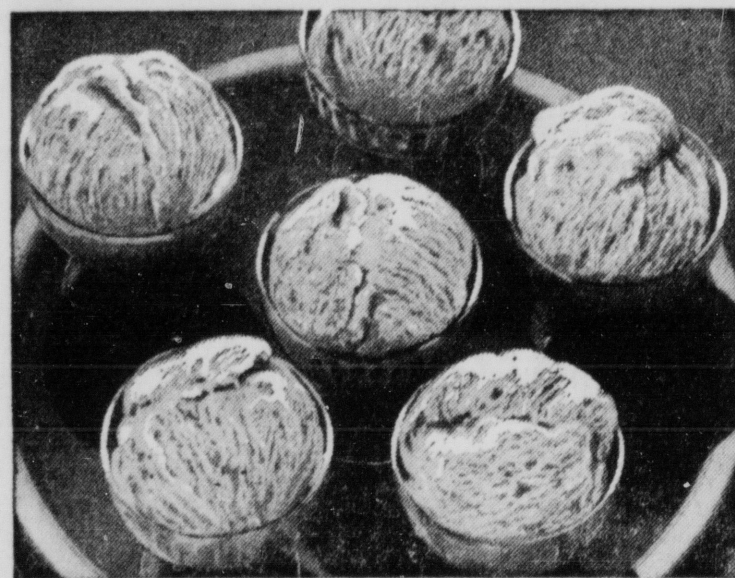

Purpose of the forum is to determine ways of expanding a current driver education program in public schools. Points to be discussed include possibilities of increasing classroom hours, a pre-education program for junior high students, and a way to extend training when the course is completed.

G. D. Mullins, safety director, left Tuesday evening for Chicago to attend a National Safety congress meeting.

U.S. Farmers May Never Be Able To Supply Consumers All Beef They Want

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Will American farmers ever be able to supply consumers with all the beef they would like to have? That question is expected to be debated by livestock experts at an agriculture department farm outlook conference opening here Oct. 29 for a week's discussion of farm production problems and price prospects. Many farm educators and state farm officials will attend. This beef question will be uppermost in minds of the conferees because of wide public interest in beef and cattle prices, which are at record levels, and the contention of some cattlemen that current government price controls will discourage production of beef cattle. Department meat experts say the present high beef prices reflect a consumer demand for more beef than is available. Beef supplies are running at the annual average of about 58 pounds for each consumer compared with about 63 pounds last year. This average is sharply below the record of 74.1 pounds in 1909. Consumption of all meat—beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton—set a record average of 163 pounds in 1908. This year the average is expected to be about 142 pounds. Next year's beef supply may be a little larger, but perhaps only three or four pounds more than this year's consumer average, department experts say. Cattle numbers on farms are at a record level. Officials predict the number next Jan. 1—the date of the next official census—will be about 90,000,000 head compared with 84,179,000 last Jan. 1. This compares with about 60,000,000 on Jan. 1, 1909, the year beef consumption reached its record, from the standpoint of the consumer average. At that time, the population was about 61,000,000, making about one cow on farms for each inhabitant. Today there is just over one cow for each two people. Redeemer Church Budget Is $21,799 Redeemer Lutheran church adopted a budget of $21,799.50 at the final quarterly meeting of the congregation. The sum of $3,000 will go for benevolences. Frank E. Winter was re-elected president for 1952. Other officers, who will be installed in January, follow: Milton Beckmann, secretary; A. F. Stoenburg, chairman of the board of deacons; Harold McCall, chairman of the board of ushers; Balzer Wertz, Donald Neuhaer and Milton Stamm, members at large. Holdover officers: Marvin Haase, treasurer; Clarence Becker, chairman of the board for parish education; Dr. Raymond Borchers, chairman of the stewardship committee.

Ceremony At Crete

MRS. EVERETT HIER

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Underwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Underwood of Crete, to Everett Hier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hier of Crete, was solemnized Saturday morning, September 29, at the Sacred Heart church of Crete, at 9 o'clock.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John F. Ekier performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of one hundred fifty guests.

Sister M. Angela, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the junior choir.

Dorlen Hier served as best man, and seating the guests were Julian Hier, Donald Parizek and Marvin Navratil. Bernard Hier, the bridegroom's nephew, was ring bearer. Miss Judy Gill, the bride's niece, and Miss Carolyn Papik, as flower girls, wore gowns of yellow taffeta and net and carried small baskets of chrysanthemums.

Miss Patsy Underwood, the bride's sister and maid of honor, in aqua, and Miss Maryann Horky, the bridesmaid, in fuschia, wore identically styled gowns with closely-fitted bodices above bouffant tiered skirts. Each wore mitts and a brief veil in the frock tone and carried a colonial bouquet of chrysanthemums in the autumn shades. Their pearl choker necklaces were gifts of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a gown of traditional white bridal satin, the fitted bodice accented with a yoke inset of Chantilly lace, and the full skirt flowing into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion, banded with the lace, fell from a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and handmade handkerchief, the gift of Mrs. Walter Bilhorn of Crete.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the parish hall, where among those assisting were Miss Shir Lee Kulhanek, Miss Marilyn Dorsey, Miss Joan Rezabek, Mrs. Anton Horky, Miss Marlene Siedhoff, Miss Leona Hladky, Miss Carol Siedhoff, Miss Verna Henning and Miss Maxine Vynnalek. Members of the family and intimate friends were entertained at dinner at the parish hall after the reception.

Upon their return from the wedding trip to Colorado, for which Mrs. Hier wore a brown suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white roses, the couple will be at home in Crete.

General Electric Studies Lincoln As Plant Expansion Site

Directors of the Lincoln chamber of commerce were told Wednesday noon that Lincoln is being considered as a site for plant expansion by General Electric company.

In making the statement A. Q. Schimmel, business expansion chairman, stated that "we have had two visits from top executives from G.E. electronics division in Syracuse, N. Y." However, he added, plans involving Lincoln have been delayed for a time.

He said General Electric will remain a prime prospect to be checked from time to time by the chamber, and that the visitors, W. M. Barker and R. W. Cook, were definitely impressed with this community.

Reports On Washington Trip

Directors also heard Arch Baley, general manager, report on visits with various government agencies and officials in Washington last week. He had stopped there after attending the American Chamber of Commerce executives annual conference in New York City.

Washington officials connected with the various military and civilian groups involved in negotiations regarding the Lincoln air base are being kept advised of progress here, but no "high level" conferences have taken place as yet, Baley reported. Presumably, this will occur only if the expected harmonious solution cannot be reached here, he said.

Staff assistants of Senators Butler and Wherry will represent Lincoln and perhaps Falls City and Beatrice in a hearing before the civil aeronautics board on proposed new air service which would link Topeka and Wichita with Lincoln. This will be held October 10, Baley said.

He also called on officials of the veterans administration, department of agriculture and salary stabilization board.

An important subject at the chamber managers' conference in New York was the government's policy on dispersal of new industrial plants for security from atomic bomb blasts. The formula would place new defense factories as much as 10 miles away from other important installations, unless intervening hills permitted less separation, Baley said.

Seventh Banker Charged In Rash Of Embezzlement

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa. — (AP)—FBI agents arrested a third banker in this small western Pennsylvania community on a charge of embezzlement.

The arrest is the second at the First National bank of New Kensington and the seventh in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia within a year. It brings the total bank defalcations to nearly $3,000,000.

Latest to be arrested is Otto R. Grotelend, 51-year-old teller at the First National bank of New Kensington.

He is charged with embezzling $16,000 from the bank.

Bomb In Auto Injures Union Leader, 3 Women

CHICAGO — (AP) — A bomb concealed under the hood of a union official's automobile exploded. The official and three women passengers were injured.

The blast shook a west side neighborhood, shattered windows of nearby homes and the Walther Memorial hospital.

The injured man is Anthony Baldino, 45, business agent of the stormy Local 705, AFL Chauffeur's and Helpers union. The others hurt are Mary Baldino, 40, and Mrs. Kay Klein, 32, sisters and cousins of Baldino, and Ann Bennis, 37.

None was in serious condition, hospital officials said. The front end of the automobile was blown to pieces.

Handshy Joins Starters For Kansas State Clash

By NORRIS ANDERSON
(Sports Editor, The Star)

A FINAL dress rehearsal for Kansas State was the University of Nebraska dish Wednesday. Mentor J. William Glassford sent his Cornhuskers through a long scrimmage in preparation for Saturday's match with the Wildcats.

Glassford said he would start the same offensive lineup that opened the Texas Christian game—with one exception.

Wayne Handshy, 230-pounder from Hollywood, Cal., will open at right tackle in place of Dick Regier.

Remainder of the lineup includes Frank Simon and George Paynich, ends; George Prochaska, tackle; Cliff Dale and Kay Curtis, guards; Verl Scott, center; John Bordogna, quarterback; Tom Carodine and Don Vogt, halfbacks.

The defensive platoon will open with the same line, but with three changes in the backfield. Cliff Hopp, out of action Saturday with a bruised arm, replaces George Cifra as a line-backer. And Max Kennedy, Beatrice soph, and Emil Radik, Omaha freshman, replace Bordogna and Carodine as defensive half-backs.

Remainder of the defensive platoon will line up with Ennis Emanuel and Dick Goll, ends; Bob Mullen and Jerry Minnick, tackles; Ed Husmann and Carl Brasse, guards; Bill Schabacker, line-backer, and Bobby Decker, safety.

Mullen and Adduci, both seniors, have been selected game captains.

Glassford praised the work of two lads who are just off the injured list—Tackle Harvey Goth and Halfback Dick Westin.

Goth, an agile Northeast grad with fair speed, is expected to move into top contendorship among the offensive tackles.

Westin's running was a highlight of the Wednesday drill. He's schooled to fill in at either offensive halfback post.

Glassford scoffed at the 14-point margin of favoritism given the Huskers.

"So far, we haven't proven to anyone we can score 14 points," he said.

Two scouts will be active Saturday. Pete Janetos will watch Penn State play Villanova and Ray Prochaska will chart the Minnesota-California game.

Approximately 4,000 reserved seats are now on sale for the game.

Fritz Knorr, business manager of K-State athletics, said today that persons desiring the best of the reserved seats should make application at once as a heavy gate sale is expected the day of the game. The reserved seats are in the East Stadium and in a section south of the goal posts.

Meek To Start Same Players

BY FRED PARRIS

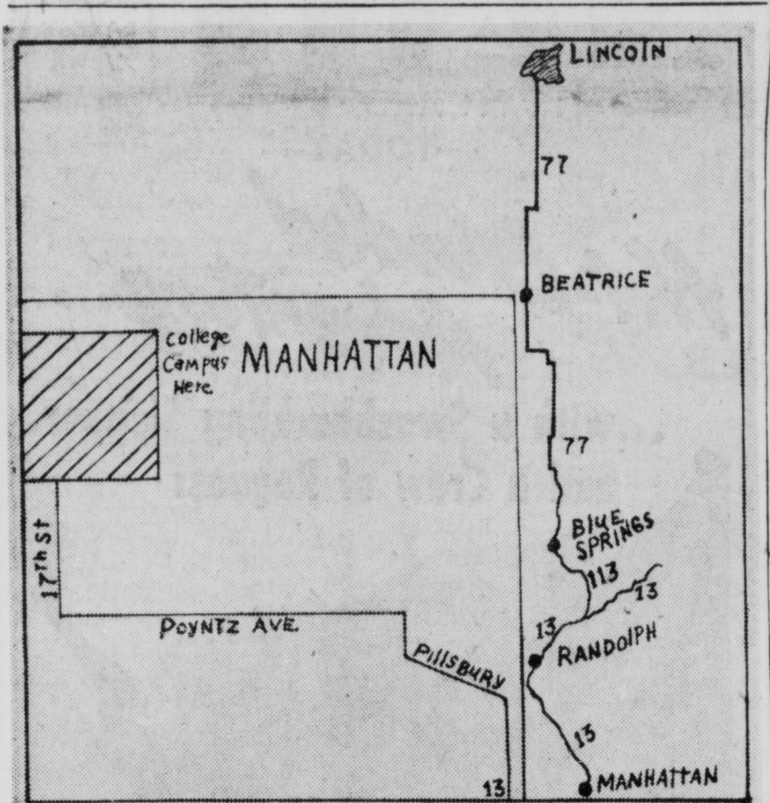

MANHATTAN, Kas.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Kansas State's defensive football eleven which startled the country last weekend by holding powerful Iowa University of the Big Ten to 16 points, meets another challenge this Saturday afternoon at Manhattan.

To stop the charges and sweeps of the Nebraskans, Coach Bill Meek of K-State probably will use much of the same young, inexperienced defensive team which blocked Iowa's threats with five goal-line stands. That would mean two freshmen, Joe Norman and Tom Ebert, would be at the ends. The tackle spots would have senior Pete Raemer and freshman Larry Hartshorn. At guards would be sophomore Tom O'Boyle and freshman Bob Smith. Linebackers would be junior Ed Pence and senior Augie Keller with senior Hi Faubion and sophomore Gerald Cashman at the halfbacks.

DAY'S PLAYER

Veryl (Joe) Switzer, sophomore safety who was player of the day at Iowa with his vicious tackles, probably will again start in that spot.

The Wildcats will be gunning for their first win over Nebraska since 1942. But, to get the job done Saturday, Coach Meek realizes that his offensive attack must click on par with the defense. The Cat coaching staff is concentrating heavily on the offense this week.

MAP TO MANHATTAN—For the benefit of fans who intend driving to Manhattan, Kas., Saturday to view the Nebraska-Kansas State game. The Star presents this map. Some 2,000 Nebraskans are expected to watch the game. (Star Photo.)

JUBILANT GIANTS—Manager Leo Durocher (left) of New York Giants has a big hug for Bobby Thomson after Bobby's three-run home run in ninth inning topped Brooklyn, 5-4, and gave the Giants the National League pennant. Win climaxed Giant drive which began in mid-August. (AP Wirephoto.)

'It Was A High Fast One And A Little Inside... And I Was All Set,' Explains Bobby Thomson

BY ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bobby Thomson, Scottish-born resident of metropolitan New York, wrote a story book finish to the National league pennant race Wednesday and then pandemonium broke loose in the Polo Grounds.

Never in history has the home of the New York Giants reverberated with such sound as followers of the new National league champions cut loose.

They had been quiet most of the afternoon, especially after the Brooklyn Dodgers took a 4-1 lead in the eighth inning. With a mighty roar that continued long afterwards they opened all their pent-up emotions as Thomson's 32nd and most important home run of the year settled in the lower left field stands with two mates aboard.

"It was a high fast one and a little inside," Thomson shouted above the din of the dressing room noise. "I saw Branca (Ralph) let loose with his fast pitch and I was all set."

The Giants' dressing room was such confusion that hardly anyone could get in a word.

But out of the backslapping, noise and general hullaboo came: "Never saw a greater finish," declared Ford Frick, newly elected baseball commissioner. "And I have been watching games for more than 30 years."

"It'll be Dave Koslo today," shouted Leo Durocher as he tried to catch his breath.

There was only one note of sadness to the Giants' first pennant since 1937. Don Mueller, whose single to right field kept the New Yorkers' ninth inning rally going, will not be able to play the first and probably the second game of the World Series opening against the Yankees.

Mueller sprained his left ankle going into third on Whitey Lockman's double to the left field corner.

Into the jam-packed, hot dressing room came Warren Giles, new president of the National league; Manager Charles Dresen of the Dodgers; Jackie Robinson, the Dodgers' great second baseman; Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers; and scores of others high in baseball to hear their words of praise on a team that was considered out of the race less than two months ago.

CONGRATULATES HELP

Somewhere around the shoulders and yelled that he did a great job of master minding in the ninth inning.

"I sure did," said Durocher jokingly. "It didn't take much master minding to get those hits that set it up for Bobby."

Asked if he had said anything on the bench before the start of the Giants' ninth, Durocher replied:

"I told the boys we had three big outs left. You haven't given up all year so don't give up now. Let's get some runs. And the reply, almost in a chorus was: 'We'll get the Bums.'"

"I knew I hit the ball hard but it started sinking very fast," said Thomson of this 32nd homer.

"But when I saw it go into the stands I don't think I touched the ground a single time the remainder of the way. I just floated around. It was that kind of a feeling."

Durocher paused long enough to discuss the World Series, almost forgotten in the future of the pennant fight.

"Well," he said, "the Yankees never lose. You've got to work real hard to beat them. But I've got a good ball club and we'll battle them. I'm pitching Koslo tomorrow."

Leo was forced to change his pitching plans when Larry Jensen was called to Masie's relief in the ninth.

'Wasn't A Bad Pitch,' Says Tearful Branca

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK — (AP) — Ralph Branca sat on the steps, eyes wet, his head buried in his arms. Manager Charley Dresen paced the floor like a nervous lion. Big Don Newcombe moved around, silently and aimlessly as if trying to figure out a reason for it all.

The others sat on the short, three-legged stools in their dressing room, eyes boring holes through the floor. None spoke. The room had a funeral air about it.

"It wasn't a bad pitch," said Branca in a low, smothered breath. "It was a high curve ball."

The big right hander was disconsolate because he was charged with both of the defeats in this best-of-three playoff for the National league pennant. He lost to the Giants, 3-1, Monday at Ebbets field.

Branca relieved Newcombe who had pitched magnificently for eight innings to carry his mates just a breath away from the championship.

The Brooklyn dressing room was closed to the press for about 15 minutes and, while the newsmen were cooling their heels in the corridor, Dresen was escorted across the hall to congratulate the Giants' Leo Durocher.

"Leo was sweet as he could be to me; he loved me," Dresen said later. "I wished him the best of luck."

The Dodgers were so depressed that newsmen assumed to get intimate details of the same from them were disinclined to ask questions. The Dodgers didn't want to talk about it.

There were no flash bulbs, no movie cameras grinding. This typical confusion was confined to the victorious Giants.

New York Teams Square Off In World Series Opener Today

(From Press Dispatches)

IT'LL be Dave Koslo of the jubilant New York Giants against Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees in the opening game of the World Series at Yankee Stadium today.

Yankee Pilot Casey Stengel had named Reynolds as his opening moundman prior to the spectacular ending of Wednesday's rubber tilt to decide the National league pennant winner.

Leo Durocher of the Giants tore himself away from the hubbub in the Giants' dressing room following a gigantic home run by Bobby Thomson with two men on base which gave them a 5-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers to name Koslo as starting hurler.

SUCCESS STORY

Thus the Giants entered the Series on the wings of a finish that was entirely in keeping with baseball's most dazzling success story.

Since Aug. 11, the Giants have won 39 out of 47 games, for an incredible percentage of .830, overcoming a Brooklyn lead of 13½ games.

Yet the Yankees were 8-5 favorites to beat them in the big show because their good pitching staff was well rested since clinching the American league pennant last Friday.

The first two games of the series will be in Yankee Stadium in the Bronx, which seats 70,000, and then play will move to the Polo Grounds, across the East river on the island of Manhattan. The Polo Grounds holds 55,000. Two or if need be three games will be played at the Polo Grounds in the best four-out-of-seven series, and then play moves back to Yankee Stadium if the world title has not yet been settled.

LOST BUT FOUR

This is the 18th time the New York Yankees have won the American league championship; the Giants won the National league title 15 times previous to this year.

In the World Series, the Yankees have won 13 times and lost only four. The Giants have won four World Series and lost eight, three of their National league championships coming when no series were played.

The Giants and the Yankees have met five times before in the World Series, and the Yankees

Lopez Gets Raise

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Cleveland Indians Wednesday night announced a salary raise and a new managerial contract for Al Lopez.

There was no mention of the terms, but there was speculation that the annual salary jumped from $30,000 to $40,000. It will be his second year as Tribe manager.

Cathedral-Axtell Play Tonight In Week's Top Six Man Game

Kickoff time will be a day early for the two top six-man clubs in the state this week.

Rated number one and two in the top ten, Axtell will be fighting Thursday night to retain its coveted position from the challenging Bluebirds from Cathedral.

Because of the game's popularity, the site has been moved to the Minden gridiron instead of the home field of Axtell as originally slated.

Bluebird Mentor Vince Aldrich has been drilling his team mainly on defense this week to cope with a high scoring Axtell club that has compiled 33 consecutive wins to date.

If past performances prove anything, the fray should be one of the highest scoring of the season. Especially with Axtell getting a 27-19 nod over Huntley last week in their lowest scoring game this season, while Cathedral was pounding St. Patricks of Fremont for a 67-18 win.

After three games, Wingback John Steinauer leads the Bluebird scorers with 75 points. He acquired 42 of these against St. Pat. Joe Clark is next in line with 26.

Aldrich has chosen Steinauer and Clark to captain the Bluebirds against the powerful sextet from Axtell, who are powered by All-Stater Morgan Wells.

Cathedral's starters for the contest at 8 p.m., are:

Cowboy Seconds Top Link Reserves

Lincoln high's reserves took a 19-7 loss at the hands of the Boys Town seconds in a game played at Boys Town Wednesday afternoon.

The Junior Links punched across the first marker in the initial canto on a four yard plunge by Fullback Jerry Nielsen following a fumble recovery. Jack Curtis ran for the point.

Boys Town trailed, 7-6 at the half after returning a punt for 60 yards and a touchdown.

The Cowboys tallied once in each of the final frames—once on a 60-yard end run and again on a 40-yard pass play.

The Lincoln line, soaked by the work of Guard John Nemeth, enabled Coach Harold Scott's club to dominate play during the first half, but the Red and Black wilted before the Cowboy's second-half attack.

The Boys Town seconds met the Link seconds in a return tilt here Oct. 25. Next Wednesday the reserves entertain the Fremont Juniors.

Mendoza, Debus Link Co-Captains

Guard Sylvester Mendoza and Fullback Bill Debus were selected by teammates to captain Lincoln high in Friday night's intra-city grid classic pitting the Links and Northeast for the city championship.

First Base Post For Bob Cerv?

ALLIE Reynolds, who will be the Yankees' starting World Series pitcher today, is a deceptive cuss. The Firing Line has seen him pitch twice and his illustrious cohort, Vic Raschi, once.

There's quite a difference between these two great tossers. Raschi wrote that Allie was blazing fast Friday as he pitched his second no-hitter of the season. That's where the deception comes in—he always seems faster than he actually is because of his motion.

When the tall Mr. Raschi winds up, you know he's going to throw hard. He puts his whole 220 pounds into it and has a beard and appearance on the mound.

Some six inches shorter, although on the chunky side, Allie presents a different style. His right arm comes up in a quick sweep and he fires quickly without nearly as much body as Raschi puts into it.

Consequently, he often fools the batter. He'll give the swatter a slow curve. Then he'll change his stride and toss a let-up ball, followed by a slow one. By the time his fast one comes up, it looks like a bullet.

DAN Daniel, the New York sports scribe, one of the best in the business, recently wrote this about Ex-Husker Bob Cerv: "Cerv came up with the Yankees in mid-season, could not get started with the bat and was shipped back to Kansas City. "Cerv's destinies on the New York club appear to lead in one of two directions. Either he will be the new right fielder, possibly batting only against southpaws, or he will become the new first baseman of the Yankees."

"Bob never played anywhere except in the outfield, and he has had rather limited experience there. He developed at the University of Nebraska, joined the Kansas City club in June, 1950, and thus presents nothing more than a season and a half of professional baseball."

"Cerv has very intriguing potentialities as a batter. His American Association record is phenomenal."

However, as an outfielder, Bob leaves a little something to be desired. His arm is not too strong, and he has not mastered the trick of making up for that, as Earl Combs did, by getting the ball away fast.

Of course, knowing the hitters and playing them right also assisted Combs, and would go to Cerv's aid within a couple of seasons.

In the meantime, Cerv has moved into the vexing first base situation.

This season, the Yankees started with John Mize, Joe Collins and Nebraskan Johnny (Hastings) Hopp on first. Hopp and Mize, both past 35, are over their peaks and Collins has been almost totally ineffective against left-handed pitching.

That's where Mr. Robert Cerv comes in.

JIMMY Rideout, five-year-old son of the Husker trainer, Blaine, is quite a sports fan.

When the newest Rideout addition, a daughter, was born recently, Jimmy asked pop what her name was.

Oh! Pop Rideout said the daughter hadn't yet been named. "Why don't you just give her a number?" young Jimmy suggested.

GIANTS GONE CRAZY—Bobby Thomson (hand upraised) fights his way through a crowd of shouting, frenzied New York Giants to score on his home run in the ninth inning which gave the Giants a 5-4 victory Wednesday over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Robby Mourns NWU Showing

If Nebraska Wesleyan University's Plainsmen are to break a three game losing streak against Kearney State here Saturday night, they'll have to look better in a scrimmage session.

That was the evaluation of Coach Roy Robertson after the rough offensive and defensive workout against the reserve eleven.

"We're still not far enough along," Robertson moaned.

He cited poor blocking by the offensive line and faulty timing in the backfield as number one problems with his green club.

DEFENSE BETTER

"We did make some progress on defense," he admitted, "particularly with our ends and half-backs. We should see improvement at these positions Saturday."

But Robertson was obviously disgruntled with the performance of the offensive team. "We are simply not moving that ball," he said.

The Plainsmen will go on up against the Antelopes as near to a favorite as they have been this season.

Sen. Kefauver Defended By Gov. Peterson

GATLINBURG, Tenn. — Gov. Val Peterson Wednesday defended Sen. Estes Kefauver after the Tennessee democrat had been denounced as a "madly ambitious political shyster."

The bitter attack on Kefauver, made in his home state on the closing day of the annual Governors' conference, was voiced by Gov. Fuller Warren, Florida, who weeks ago defied a crime committee subpoena.

Warren charged that Kefauver, former chairman of the senate crime committee, is "running for the presidency of the United States."

Gov. Peterson, Nebraska republican, spoke up in Kefauver's defense, the International News Service reported.

"Great American" He told the governors, in a panel discussion on law enforcement.

"It grieves me to hear such an attack on Sen. Kefauver. I think he is a great American and that his committee did a grand job."

Warren did not mention Kefauver by name, but identified him as head of the senate investigating committee which criticized crime conditions in Florida, particularly in the greater Miami area.

He said that public gambling

300 National Guardsmen To Donate Blood Here

Plans have been made for about 300 local national guardsmen to donate blood to the Red Cross blood collection drive.

In order to make donation by some of the guardsmen possible, the bloodmobile will stay open two hours later than usual Oct. 30.

Four national guard units from which volunteer donations have been pledged are 366th ordnance company, the 34th quartermaster company, headquarters company of the 195th tank battalion and the state headquarters and headquarters detachment. The four groups total about 500 men.

Stefan Vote Procedure To Be Told

Attorney General C. S. Beck Wednesday said he will advise state party chairmen that district conventions should be held to nominate candidates for the special election for the unexpired term of the late Rep. Karl Stefan.

Democratic chairman is William Meier, Minden. The republican head is David Martin, Kearney.

It appeared Wednesday that the person chosen to serve out Stefan's term might not receive his official certificate of election until the term has expired.

But Beck said he did not expect this fact would, as a practical matter, prevent the winner from taking his seat.

Can Tally Vote
"The state canvassing board can tally the vote and notify the clerk of the house of the apparent winner," Beck said.

"The house is the sole judge of its membership, and in all probability, the winner would be seated. The only other possibility would be that the democratic majority might refuse to receive him if he were a republican. But I doubt if they would do that," he added.

Meanwhile, a couple of more names were put forward as possible contestants in the election.

Mentioned in statehouse talk were Earl Lee, Fremont republican, and Walter Raacke, Central City democrat.

Both Raacke and Lee are attorneys. Raacke, who made a surprisingly good race for governor in the last general election, is a former state senator and speaker of the legislature. Lee is now a state senator and is also a former speaker of the legislature.

33,000 Drivers' Licenses Renewed

County Treasurer C. E. Berg said that 33,000 drivers' licenses have been issued by his office since Sept. 1.

He said he thought the total issued by Oct. 31, the last day before a re-examination is necessary to obtain a license, may reach 50,000. Total licenses issued in Lancaster county amount to about 60,000.

Berg said many residents were again sending in licenses without stating their birth date on the back. In such cases the license must be returned.

He estimated that ten to fifteen thousand licenses would still be unrenewed by the end of the month.

Beck Requests Return Of Kitts To Nebraska

The return of Kenneth Kitts, an agent of the U. S. court. Kitts escaped bank robber, to the warden in Omaha to give testimony. Difference

Therefore, the warden asks for the return to the custody of the warden rather than the surrender of Kitts. The difference is in the warden's terminology of return to custody rather than surrender.

Beck said Kitts will not be back in custody of the warden until Kitts is in the prison here.

Kitts is under sentence in Iowa federal court for 30 years for bank robbery, but under the provisions of that sentence it cannot be effective until Kitts' Nebraska term is commuted or he is paroled or

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. ONE MAN'S OPINION

Secretary Brannan says Mr. Truman should run again "for the welfare of the nation" and even non-Trumanites admit that there are quite a few people whose lot has improved under his administration.

Eisenhower, with whom they're not sure they can win either.

But some say Ike is over there talking with men of a dozen different nations just to fit him for conversation with the dozen different factions of the republican party.

Anyway, to clarify a point in the news blackout in Washington, the new executive rule does not restrain any cabinet member from traveling the nation to predict the re-election of the executive.

This is not considered a breach of security in the sense of giving information that will comfort the republicans.

PITTSBURGH—A prisoner in the Allegheny county workhouse says he hopes tinkling tunes written in his cell will repay 180 home-hungry victims of his $212,000 housing swindle.

Whether it will depends on Raymond E. Reynolds' ability to sell the songs.

Reynolds, 52-year-old former builder serving a 10-year sentence asked the Pittsburgh-Sun-Telegraph in a letter to help him peddle the compositions. He added: "I don't want a penny for myself. My greatest desire is to pay back those people from whom I obtained the money."

'Soviet Atomic Bomb Test Should Jolt U.S.'

Sen. McMahon Asks Support For Expansion

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sen. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the joint atomic energy "watchdog" committee, declares that expansion of the second atomic bomb by Russia should jolt the United States into an expanded atomic program.

BY SEN. BRIAN MCMAHON (As told to International News Service Staff Correspondent Frank B. Allen)

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The Soviet atomic bomb test announced by President Truman Wednesday is the most eloquent support I could get for my Sept. 18 proposal for expanding our atomic weapons program. We do have the lead in atomic weapons progress. But another wouldn't test the same bomb a second time. It's a fair conclusion that they have made progress. On Sept. 18, I urged six billion dollar expansion of our atomic production facilities. I urged this in the interests of eventually reducing the costs of national defense, and at the same time, strengthening it.

SEN. MCMAHON... "they have made progress."

Incidentally, I do not believe there is any difference of opinion between Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Gordon Dean and myself on the desirability of a large expansion of the program.

Singular Identity
In fact, I believe there is a singular identity of thinking on basic atomic matters on our part.

In my Sept. 18 speech, I proposed to the senate an atomic army, an atomic navy and an atomic air force. I said that the cost of an atomic bomb, under mass production methods, will become less than the cost of a single tank.

I said then that it is a matter of simple arithmetic—that we should put far greater emphasis on the best and cheapest weapon—the atomic weapon. I said this was economy—that it could save us eventually 30 or 40 billion dollars a year in our defense costs.

The most important saving of all would be in preventing World War III. I think congress is going to go on record for an expansion of atomic weapon production. And I believe the Russian atomic test announced by President Truman will give impetus to that development.

BY JACK LOTTO
NEW YORK—(INS)—Bernard M. Baruch said Wednesday the announcement that Russia has exploded a second atomic bomb is "further evidence of American stupidity" in its A-bomb development program.

"When we had the secret," Baruch declared, "we let everyone get it—fellows like British scientist Klaus Fuchs and his ilk."

The 81-year-old statesman who authored the plan for international control of atomic energy, went on: "People came in and took whatever we had. It shows how unintelligent our management was."

"Everybody learned from us. Because of our terrible mismanagement we gave up years in our lead on atomic research."

AWOL Soldier Gets Reformatory For Break-Ins

A 17-year-old Yakima, Wash., youth, absent without leave from the army, was sentenced to 18 months to three years in the reformatory Wednesday after pleading guilty last Sept. 27 in District court to charges of burglary.

According to information filed by County Attorney Frederick H. Wagner, the youth admitted breaking into eleven different buildings in the downtown warehouse district.

The youth also admitted taking about $150 in money from the eleven different places. He also said he entered other places prior to being caught.

He was captured when he returned to one place he had broken into to pick up a radio he saw, but didn't take with him on his first visit.

R. L. Warren of Crawford was re-elected vice president. Perry Jarvis of Carroll was named second vice president; W. R. Hughes of Omaha, secretary, and George C. Sheldon of Nehawka, treasurer.

FORMER BOOKKEEPER QUESTIONED—Miss Janet Boone, former bookkeeper for the American Lithoid Corp. of St. Louis, is questioned Wednesday by senate investigators looking into Democratic National Chairman William Boyle's dealing with the company, and its RFC loans. (AP Wirephoto Wednesday Night.)

Library Day Observance Hailed By Governor And Librarians

The 75th observance of national library day, Thursday, Oct. 4, has been hailed by Gov. Val Peterson and head librarians at the University of Nebraska as a day for recognition of the spoken word's place in American heritage.

The American Library association, founded Oct. 4, 1876, has chosen "the heritage of the U.S.A. in times of crisis" as theme of its 1951 "library day."

Gov. Peterson proclaimed the day in Nebraska by paying tribute to librarians. "The influence of the printed word has been tremendous in the history of the world. Our American heritage has been molded and handed down pression and communication must be removed if the library is to be truly the people's library," they stated.

If you drink whiskey ... make this "showdown" taste test today:

1. Have 1/4 oz. of Calvert put in one glass and the same amount of any other whiskey in another — without knowing which is which.

2. Sniff one brand for aroma. Taste it critically for smoothness. Swallow carefully to judge its freedom from bite, burn or sting.

3. Taste the other whiskey in the same analytical way — then pick the one that really tastes better to you.

It's smart to switch to Calvert

Be your own whiskey expert! Make your own 60-second taste test today between Calvert Reserve and any other whiskey. You'll be surprised how whiskeys can differ in smoothness, mellowness and freedom from harshness. We honestly believe you'll switch to better-tasting Calvert, because its taste is determined by a "Consumer Jury" of thousands like you. But if you really prefer another brand, stick with it. Fair enough?

BOTH HAVE SAME BASIC CONSTRUCTION
In ordinary mattresses (left), wired-together springs sag down together. In Beautyrest (right) all 837 springs are individually pocketed—act separately—can't sag.
A. Slant of black tape on spine of figure on ordinary mattress betrays that wired-together springs sag down together. Result: distorted body, improper rest.
B. BEAUTYREST IS POSTURE-RIGHT. Straight line of tape on spine of figure on Beautyrest shows that each coil adjusts to weight above it. Result: perfect support, correct alignment of organs, healthful sleep.
BEAUTYREST LASTS LONGER
Torture tests prove Beautyrest can take it. Beautyrest lasted twice as long as any mattress tested. Simmons guarantees Beautyrest for 10 years against faulty construction.
